BRIEF REPORT

Objective:

The Swachh Maharashtra Mission aimed to promote cleanliness and hygiene in Beed city as part of the state-wide initiative for a cleaner Maharashtra. The event focused on cleaning public areas, spreading awareness about waste management, and encouraging community participation in maintaining a clean environment.

Participants:

- 50 students from Tulsi College of Fashion Design
- 10 faculty members
- Members of Dharmraj Bahuuddeshiy Sevabhavi Sastha
- Local residents of Beed

Activities Conducted:

1. Clean-Up Drive: Students and volunteers participated in a clean-up drive in various locations within Beed city, including parks, marketplaces, and residential areas.
2. Awareness Campaign: Awareness sessions were conducted to educate the local community about the importance of cleanliness, proper waste disposal, and hygiene practices.
3. Distribution of Cleaning Supplies: Cleaning kits, including gloves, masks, and garbage bags, were distributed to participants to ensure safety and effectiveness during the clean-up.
4. Tree Plantation: As a part of the mission, a tree plantation drive was also conducted to enhance the green cover in Beed city.

Outcome:

The event successfully brought together students, faculty, and community members to work towards a common goal of a cleaner environment. It raised awareness about the significance of cleanliness and motivated the local community to actively participate in maintaining hygiene standards.

Report on Health Awareness Workshops

Event Name: Health Awareness Workshops
Date: 7 April 2024 (World Health Day)
Location: Shivni Village, Beed, Maharashtra.
Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed

Objectives

The primary objective of the Health Awareness Workshops was to educate rural women on maintaining good health practices and preventive measures. The focus areas included nutrition, maternal health, menstrual hygiene, and common illnesses. The event aimed to empower women with knowledge and practical advice to improve their overall health and well-being.

Event Execution

The Health Awareness Workshops were conducted in Shivni Village, which was decorated with informative banners and posters. The event was structured into different sessions.

1. Nutrition

- Content: Importance of a balanced diet, essential nutrients, and healthy eating habits. Demonstrations of simple, nutritious recipes using locally available ingredients.
- Interactive Activity: Participants created their own balanced meal plans under the guidance of the nutritionist.

2. Maternal Health

- Content: Prenatal and postnatal care, importance of regular check-ups, common complications during pregnancy, and safe delivery practices.
- Interactive Activity: Q&A session where women shared their experiences and concerns, receiving personalized advice from the gynecologist.

3. Menstrual Hygiene

- Content: Menstrual cycle basics, importance of menstrual hygiene, different types of sanitary products, and proper disposal methods.
- Interactive Activity: Distribution of menstrual hygiene kits and demonstration of their use.

4. Common Illnesses

- Content: Information on common illnesses like cold, flu, diarrhea, and skin infections. Emphasis on prevention, early detection, and home remedies.
- Interactive Activity: Role-playing scenarios where participants practiced identifying symptoms and deciding when to seek medical help.

Conclusion

The Health Awareness Workshops organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design Beed were a resounding success, achieving the goal of educating rural women on vital health practices. The event not only enhanced the participants knowledge but also encouraged proactive health management within the community. The positive feedback and high engagement levels underscore the importance of such initiatives in promoting rural women's health and well-being.

Tree Plantation Drive on Pollution Control Day

Date: April 2, 2024

Organized By: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

In celebration of Pollution Control Day on April 2, 2024, Tulsi College of Fashion Design took a significant step towards environmental sustainability by organizing a comprehensive Tree Plantation Drive. This initiative was part of the college's ongoing commitment to social responsibility and environmental conservation. The event aimed to increase green cover, improve air quality, and raise awareness about the importance of trees in combating pollution.

Event Schedule

The Tree Plantation Drive began at 9:00 AM with an opening ceremony. The Principal of Tulsi College of Fashion Design, delivered an inspiring speech emphasizing the importance of trees in mitigating pollution and enhancing urban biodiversity.

Activities:

1. Opening Ceremony

- Welcome speech by the Principal.
- Brief introduction to the importance of Pollution Control Day.
- Outline of the day's activities.

2. Tree Planting

- Volunteers were divided into groups, each led by a faculty member or an environmentalist.

Deogiri Pratishthan

Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed.

Sant Dnyaneshwar Nagar, Behind Government ITI Circus Ground, Beed – 431122

- Demonstrations were given on the correct methods of planting and nurturing saplings.
- Each group was assigned specific areas where they planted saplings, ensuring proper spacing and depth.

3. Educational Sessions

- Environmental experts conducted short sessions on the benefits of trees, the role of urban green spaces, and the impact of deforestation.
- Interactive discussions and Q&A sessions allowed participants to learn more about sustainable practices.

4. Community Engagement

- Local community members, including children and elders, actively participated, fostering a sense of collective responsibility.
- Refreshments and eco-friendly souvenirs (such as reusable bags and seed packets) were distributed to all participants.

Outcome:

The Tree Plantation Drive was a resounding success. Over 500 saplings were planted in various locations, significantly contributing to the area's green cover. The event also strengthened the bond between the college and the local community, highlighting the importance of collaborative efforts in environmental conservation.

Conclusion

The Tree Plantation Drive organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design on Pollution Control Day 2024 exemplified the college's dedication to environmental stewardship. By engaging the community and fostering awareness, the event made a meaningful contribution to the fight against pollution and set a positive example for future generations.

Report on the Campaign of Child Marriage Free India

Date: 17th March 2024(Sunday)

Time: 8.30 AM

Location: Vishavnath Vidyalay, Wangi

Achievement Statement:

The "Child Marriage Free India" event was successfully conducted on 17th March 2024, at Vishavnath Vidyalay, Wangi, organized by Dharmraj Bahuuddeshiy Sevabhavi Sanstha NGO in collaboration with the students of Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design. The primary objective of the event was to spread awareness about the adverse effects of child marriage and to advocate for its prevention.

Event Activities:

• Inaugural Session:

The event commenced with a welcome address by the Principal of Vishavnath Vidyalay, followed by a keynote speech from the chief guest, highlighting the importance of education and legal rights for preventing child marriage.

• Awareness Campaign:

A series of informative sessions were held, where experts spoke about the psychological, social, and health impacts of child marriage on young girls. These sessions aimed to educate the local community on recognizing the importance of age-appropriate education and the legal implications of child marriage.

• Interactive Workshop:

Tulsi College of Fashion Design students conducted an interactive workshop focusing on empowering young girls through education and skill development. They showcased how education and vocational training can open up opportunities and provide independence.

Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed.

Sant Dnyaneshwar Nagar, Behind Government ITI Circus Ground, Beed – 431122

- Cultural Program:

The event featured a cultural program with performances by students that depicted the struggles and dreams of young girls affected by child marriage. These performances were designed to evoke empathy and promote a collective responsibility to end the practice.

- Pledge Ceremony:

Towards the end of the event, a pledge ceremony was held where all participants vowed to support and advocate for a child marriage-free India. Attendees signed a banner, symbolizing their commitment to this cause.

Conclusion

The "Child Marriage Free India" event was a resounding success, with active participation from students, teachers, local community members, and representatives from Dharmraj Bahuuddeshiy Sevabhavi Sanstha. The event successfully raised awareness about the detrimental effects of child marriage and encouraged the community to take a stand against it. The collaborative efforts of all involved parties were crucial in driving home the message that education and empowerment are the keys to eradicating child marriage.

Report on Energy Conservation Day Activities by the Girls of Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed

Date: 14-12-2023

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

Tulsi College of Fashion Design's students commemorated Energy Conservation Day in an effort to encourage energy-saving behaviours among Beed locals and to raise awareness of the issue. The program's main goal was to teach housewives easy-to-use techniques for energy conservation, lowering electricity costs, and consuming less electricity. The actions taken, the approaches used, and the results of the incident are described in this report.

Training Sessions:

- Prior to the event, students attended comprehensive training sessions on energy conservation techniques. Experts in the field provided insights on various energy-saving methods and effective communication strategies.
- Students were equipped with informational materials, such as brochures and pamphlets, which were designed to be easily understandable and visually appealing.

Team Formation:

- Students were divided into small teams, each assigned to different localities within Beed. Each team had a designated leader responsible for coordinating activities in their area.

Household Visits:

- Teams conducted door-to-door visits, engaging with household women in a friendly and approachable manner. The objective was to educate them about energy conservation and demonstrate practical tips.

- The students explained the importance of energy conservation, both for reducing electricity bills and for environmental sustainability.

Interactive Sessions:

- Interactive sessions were held with the women, demonstrating the use of energy-efficient appliances and sharing simple habits to reduce electricity consumption.
- Practical examples included turning off lights when not in use, using natural light during the day, and unplugging devices when not in use.

Practical Demonstrations:

- Students demonstrated the difference in energy consumption between traditional bulbs and LED bulbs. They also explained how to read an electricity bill and identify areas where energy consumption could be reduced.

Outcomes

1. Increased awareness about energy conservation among household women in Beed.
2. Adoption of simple energy-saving practices by numerous households, leading to reduced electricity consumption and lower electricity bills.
3. Positive feedback from the community, with many women expressing gratitude for the valuable information and support provided by the students.

Conclusion

The students at Tulsi College of Fashion Design had a great time with their Energy Conservation Day activities. They succeeded in educating the public, promoting sustainable energy-saving techniques, and increasing awareness via their tireless efforts. This program helped achieve the dual objectives of environmental preservation and giving women the power to manage their energy use.

REPORT

Event Title: "Joyful Giving: Spreading Smiles at Beed Orphanages"

Date: 14th November of 2023

Location: Orphanage Home, Beed, Maharashtra

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

Every year on November 14, Tulsi College of Fashion Design organizes a social responsibility event to bring joy and support to orphanage children in Beed. This initiative is part of our commitment to giving back to the community and supporting those in need. The event includes the provision of fruits, food, and sports materials to the children, along with various interactive and engaging activities.

Objectives

1. To support the nutritional needs of orphanage children by providing healthy food and fruits.
2. To promote physical fitness and recreational activities by supplying sports materials.
3. To bring joy and a sense of belonging to the children through interactive and engaging activities.
4. To instill a sense of social responsibility and empathy among students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design.

Distribution of Fruits and Food:

- a) Upon arrival at the orphanage homes, volunteers distributed nutritious fruits and food to the children. The distribution was carried out in an organized and hygienic manner.
- b) Children were encouraged to share their favorite fruits and snacks, fostering a sense of community.

Provision of Sports Materials:

- a) Sports equipment such as footballs, cricket sets, badminton sets, and other recreational items were handed over to the orphanage management.
- b) Volunteers demonstrated the use of the equipment and played games with the children, encouraging them to participate and enjoy.

Interactive Activities:

- a) Arts and Crafts: Art supplies were provided, and children were guided through creative activities such as drawing, painting, and crafting.
- b) Music and Dance: Music and dance sessions were held to bring joy and encourage self-expression among the children.

Engagement and Interaction:

- a) Volunteers spent quality time interacting with the children, building relationships, and understanding their needs and aspirations.
- b) Group activities and team-building games were conducted to foster a sense of camaraderie and teamwork among the children.

Conclusion

The annual social responsibility event organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design on November 14 was a resounding success. Through the dedicated efforts of students and faculty, we were able to bring joy, support, and valuable resources to the orphanage children in Beed. This initiative not only benefited the children but also instilled a strong sense of empathy and social responsibility in our students. We look forward to continuing and expanding this tradition in the coming years.

Event Location: Wangi, Ghodka Rajuri, Beed

Organized by: Dharmraj Bahuuddeshiy Sevabhavi Sanstha, in collaboration with students of Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction:

The Candle March for Child Marriage Free India Campaign, organized by Dharmraj Bahuuddeshiy Sevabhavi Sanstha, was held on 16th October 2023. The event, conducted in Wangi, Ghodka Rajuri, Beed, aimed to raise awareness about the detrimental effects of child marriage and advocate for a child marriage-free India. Students and faculty from Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design actively participated in the event.

Event Overview:

The march commenced at 5:00 PM, with participants gathering at the designated location. Candles were distributed to all participants as a symbol of hope and enlightenment against the practice of child marriage. The march proceeded through the main streets of Wangi, Ghodka Rajuri, spreading messages of awareness and education to the local community.

The event saw enthusiastic participation from the local residents, students, and volunteers. Banners, placards, and posters highlighting the consequences of child marriage were displayed throughout the march. Slogans advocating for the rights and education of children were chanted, creating a powerful atmosphere of unity and determination.

Conclusion:

The Candle March for Child Marriage Free India Campaign was a successful event, drawing attention to a critical social issue. The participation and support from students, faculty and the local community played a significant role in spreading awareness. The event concluded

Gandhi Jayanti Celebration – Swachh Bharat Abhiyan Activity

Date: 2 October 2023

Venue: Tulsi College of Fashion Design, main gate

In honor of Gandhi Jayanti, Tulsi College of Fashion Design organized a series of activities under the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan initiative. The primary focus of this year's celebration was a comprehensive Community Clean-up Drive, aiming to promote cleanliness and environmental sustainability within our local community.

Awareness Campaign Details:

The event commenced at 8:00 AM with an enthusiastic gathering of students, faculty, and staff at the college's main gate. Participants were provided with necessary materials, including gloves, trash bags, and cleaning tools, to ensure a safe and effective clean-up effort.

Community Clean-up Drive Details:

1. Neighborhood Clean-up:

- Participants divided into teams and spread out across various local neighborhoods, targeting areas that required significant clean-up efforts.
- Each team was assigned specific zones to ensure thorough and systematic cleaning.
- Activities included picking up litter, removing debris, and disposing of waste in an environmentally responsible manner.

2. Park and Public Space Clean-up:

- Special focus was given to local parks and public spaces, which are frequented by community members.
- Efforts included not only cleaning up litter but also ensuring that waste disposal units were properly maintained and emptied.

Deogiri Pratishthan

Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed.

Sant Dnyaneshwar Nagar, Behind Government ITI Circus Ground, Beed - 431122

3. Participation and Impact:

The event saw active participation from over 150 students and 20 faculty members, alongside numerous community volunteers. The combined efforts resulted in the collection of approximately 500 kilograms of waste, significantly enhancing the cleanliness and aesthetic appeal of the targeted areas.

4. Community Engagement:

The clean-up drives also served as an opportunity to engage with local residents, raising awareness about the importance of maintaining a clean environment. Informative pamphlets on waste segregation and recycling were distributed, and residents were encouraged to continue the efforts initiated by the college.

5. Conclusion:

The event concluded at 12:00 PM with a brief closing ceremony held at the college. The Principal, in his address, expressed heartfelt gratitude to all participants and emphasized the importance of sustaining such efforts throughout the year. Participants shared their experiences, highlighting the sense of fulfillment and community spirit fostered by the event.

Nari Samman: visit to statues of women freedom fighter

Date: 05/09/2023

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed

On September 05, 2023, college students from Tulsi College of Fashion Design participated in a unique educational initiative under the "Nari Samman" program, which involved visiting and paying homage to statues dedicated to women freedom fighters. This event was organized to honour and remember the contributions of these remarkable women who played a crucial role in India's struggle for independence.

Objective

1. Educational Awareness: To provide students with a deeper understanding of the contributions of women in the freedom movement.
2. Cultural Appreciation: To foster respect and appreciation for the sacrifices made by these women.
3. Inspiration: To inspire students by learning about the courage and resilience of women freedom fighters.

Activities

1. Visit to Statues: Students visited several prominent statues, including those of Rani Lakshmbai, Sarojini Naidu, and Kasturba Gandhi. Each visit was accompanied by a brief history of the freedom fighter's contributions, read by a student volunteer.
2. Interactive Sessions: Post-visit discussions and interactive sessions were held where students shared their reflections and insights. These discussions were facilitated by history professors who provided additional context and answered questions.
3. Creative Tributes: Students created and presented creative tributes such as poems, short skits, and visual presentations celebrating the life and achievements of these women.

4. Documentary Screening: A short documentary on the role of women in India's independence struggle was screened, followed by a Q&A session.

Conclusion

The "Nari Samman" program successfully achieved its objectives of educating students about the pivotal role of women in India's freedom movement. The visits to statues of women freedom fighters provided a tangible connection to history and inspired a deeper appreciation for these heroines sacrifices. Moving forward, it is recommended to address logistical issues and potentially expand the program to include more interactive elements and broader participation.

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Venue: Shivni Village, Beed

Introduction

On 21 August 2023, Tulsi College of Fashion Design, celebrated Senior Citizen Day with a heartfelt theme of "Intergenerational Storytelling Session" at Shivni Village, Beed. The objective of the event was to bridge the gap between generations by providing a platform for senior citizens to share their life stories and experiences with the younger generation. The event aimed to foster mutual respect and understanding, preserving the legacy of the elderly through recorded stories.

Event Day Activities

1. Opening Ceremony:

The event began with an opening ceremony where the Principal of Tulsi College of Fashion Design, welcomed the senior citizens and emphasized the significance of celebrating their contributions to society. The institute social responsibility coordinator, provided an overview of the day's activities and introduced the facilitators.

2. Intergenerational Storytelling Session:

The core activity of the day was the storytelling session, which was divided into several parts to ensure maximum participation and engagement.

Introduction and Icebreaker: The session began with an icebreaker activity to help participants get to know each other. Senior citizens and younger participants were paired up and asked to introduce themselves and share a fun fact or a favorite memory.

Storytelling Circles: The participants were then divided into smaller groups, each facilitated by a trained moderator. In these circles, senior citizens took turns sharing their life stories and experiences. The younger participants listened attentively and were encouraged to ask questions, fostering an interactive and engaging dialogue.

3. Q&A and Group Discussions:

After the storytelling circles, a larger group discussion was held. This session allowed participants to reflect on the stories they heard, ask further questions, and share their thoughts and feelings. The facilitators guided the discussion, ensuring a respectful and meaningful exchange of ideas.

4. Refreshments and Socializing:

A dedicated area was set up with refreshments, including tea, coffee, snacks, and light meals. Comfortable seating arrangements were made to encourage socializing and conversation. This provided a relaxed environment for the senior citizens and younger participants to interact with each other and continue their discussions.

Impact

The Intergenerational Storytelling Session was highly successful in achieving its goals of fostering mutual respect and understanding between generations. The event not only provided a platform for senior citizens to share their stories but also created a meaningful connection with the younger participants.

Conclusion

The Senior Citizen Day celebration at Shivni village by Tulsi College of Fashion Design was a heartwarming and memorable event. The theme of "Intergenerational Storytelling Session" successfully bridged the gap between generations, fostering mutual respect and understanding. The institute social responsibility unit's dedication and hard work ensured the event's success, leaving a lasting impact on all who attended. This celebration not only highlighted the importance of appreciating and honoring our senior citizens but also strengthened the bond between generations, fostering a sense of community and mutual respect.

Report on Sanitation and Hygiene Drive

Event Overview

Event Name: Sanitation and Hygiene Drive

Date: 7 April 2023 (World Health Day)

Location: Shivni Village, Beed District

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed under Institute Social Responsibility Programs

Objectives

The primary objective of the Sanitation and Hygiene Drive was to promote personal hygiene and community cleanliness in Shivni Village. The event aimed to distribute hygiene kits containing essential items such as soap, sanitary pads, and disinfectants, and educate the community on the importance of maintaining hygiene to reduce health risks associated with poor sanitation.

Event Execution

The Sanitation and Hygiene Drive was conducted in various strategic locations in Shivni Village, ensuring maximum reach and impact. The drive was structured to provide a seamless flow of activities, including education sessions and distribution of hygiene kits.

1. Hygiene Education Sessions:

- Activity: Conducted by health educators using visual aids and demonstrations.
- Content: Importance of personal hygiene, proper handwashing techniques, menstrual hygiene management, and waste disposal practices.
- Interactive Activity: Participants engaged in practical demonstrations of handwashing and sanitation practices.

2. Distribution of Hygiene Kits:

- Activity: Hygiene kits containing soap, sanitary pads, disinfectants, and informational leaflets were distributed to the participants.

Detailed Report: Clean-up Campaign Organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed

Event Name: Clean-up Campaign

Date: April 2, 2023

Organized By: Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed

Introduction

To mark Pollution Control Day on April 2, 2023, Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed, organized a comprehensive Clean-up Campaign in Beed. This initiative was part of the college's social responsibility efforts aimed at raising awareness about pollution, promoting community involvement and enhancing the cleanliness and environmental health of Beed.

Event Day

The Clean-up Campaign began at 8:00 AM with an opening ceremony. Principal of Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed, addressed the gathering, highlighting the significance of Pollution Control Day and the collective responsibility of maintaining a clean environment.

Activities

1. Opening Ceremony

- Welcome speech by the Principal.
- Brief overview of Pollution Control Day and its relevance.
- Introduction to the clean-up activities planned for the day.

2. Clean-up Drive

- Volunteers were divided into teams, each assigned to specific areas within.
- Teams were led by faculty members and students who guided the clean-up process.
- Participants collected litter, sorted recyclable and non-recyclable waste, and disposed of it properly in designated bins.

3. Awareness Sessions

- Environmentalists conducted brief sessions on the importance of waste segregation, recycling, and the impact of pollution on health and the environment.
- Informational pamphlets and posters were distributed to educate villagers on maintaining cleanliness and reducing pollution.

Deogiri Pratishthan

Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed.

Sant Dnyaneshwar Nagar, Behind Government ITI Circus Ground, Beed – 431122

4. Community Engagement

- Local residents, including children and senior citizens, joined the campaign, fostering a sense of community involvement and responsibility.
- Refreshments and eco-friendly giveaways (such as cloth bags and plantable seed pencils) were distributed to participants.

Outcome

The Clean-up Campaign was a significant success. The volunteers collected a considerable amount of waste, leaving noticeably cleaner and more pleasant. The campaign not only improved the area's cleanliness but also raised awareness among residents about the importance of maintaining a pollution-free environment.

Conclusion

The Clean-up Campaign organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed, on Pollution Control Day 2023 in Beed exemplified the college's commitment to social and environmental responsibility. By engaging the community and promoting awareness, the event made a meaningful contribution to the fight against pollution and set a positive example for other institutions and communities to follow.

REPORT

Saint Gadge Baba Maharaj Jayanti Celebration

Date: 23 February 2023

Location: Shivni Village, Beed

Activity: Improving sanitation and cleanliness in the rural areas of Shivni Village.

On 23rd February 2023, Tulsi College of Fashion Design celebrated Saint Gadge Baba Maharaj Jayanti with a focus on Swachh Bharat Abhiyan (Clean India Mission). The event was centered around improving sanitation and cleanliness in the rural areas of Shivni Village.

Event Activity:

Rural Cleaning and Sanitation Activities:

- A dedicated team of volunteers, including students, faculty and staff, traveled to Shivni Village to participate in the rural cleaning and sanitation activities.
- The activities included cleaning public spaces, such as roads, markets and community centers.
- Educational sessions were conducted to inform villagers about proper hygiene practices and the importance of maintaining a clean environment.
- Waste disposal systems were set up, including the installation of dustbins and organizing waste segregation processes.

Outcome:

The event was a notable success, with enthusiastic participation from the college community and the villagers. The public spaces in Shivni Village were significantly cleaner by the end of the day, and the educational sessions helped raise awareness about sanitation and hygiene. The installation of waste disposal systems marked a crucial step towards sustainable cleanliness in the village.

Conclusion:

- The celebration of Saint Gadge Baba Maharaj Jayanti, focusing on rural cleaning and sanitation activities in Shivni Village, was a commendable effort towards promoting cleanliness and hygiene in rural areas.
- The event not only honored the legacy of Saint Gadge Baba Maharaj but also contributed to the well-being of the Shivni Village community. We look forward to organizing similar initiatives in the future to continue our efforts in promoting sustainability and environmental responsibility.

Report on Energy Conservation Day

Date: 14-12-2022

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

Energy Conservation Day was observed by the students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design with the aim of raising awareness and promoting energy-saving practices among the residents of Beed. The initiative focused on educating household women about simple yet effective methods to conserve energy, reduce electricity consumption, and lower electricity bills. This report outlines the activities conducted, methodologies employed, and the outcomes of the event.

Team Formation:

- Students were divided into small teams, each assigned to different localities within Beed. Each team had a designated leader responsible for coordinating activities in their area.

Household Visits:

- Teams conducted door-to-door visits, engaging with household women in a friendly and approachable manner. The objective was to educate them about energy conservation and demonstrate practical tips.
- The students explained the importance of energy conservation, both for reducing electricity bills and for environmental sustainability.

Interactive Sessions:

- Interactive sessions were held with the women, demonstrating the use of energy-efficient appliances and sharing simple habits to reduce electricity consumption.
- Practical examples included turning off lights when not in use, using natural light during the day, and unplugging devices when not in use.

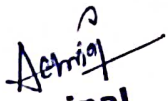

Practical Demonstrations:

- Students demonstrated the difference in energy consumption between traditional bulbs and LED bulbs. They also explained how to read an electricity bill and identify areas where energy consumption could be reduced.

Conclusion

The Tulsi College of Fashion Design students' Energy Conservation Day events were a huge success. They were able to spread sustainable energy-saving measures, educate the community, and increase awareness thanks to their tireless efforts. In addition to giving women the power to manage their energy use, this program advanced the more general objective of environmental preservation.

REPORT

Event Title: "Joyful Giving: Spreading Smiles at Beed Orphanages"

Date: November 14, 2022

Location: Orphanage Home, Beed, Maharashtra

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

Every year on November 14, Tulsi College of Fashion Design organizes a social responsibility event to bring joy and support to orphanage children in Beed. This initiative is part of our commitment to giving back to the community and supporting those in need. The event includes the provision of fruits, food, and sports materials to the children, along with various interactive and engaging activities.

Objectives

1. To support the nutritional needs of orphanage children by providing healthy food and fruits.
2. To promote physical fitness and recreational activities by supplying sports materials.
3. To bring joy and a sense of belonging to the children through interactive and engaging activities.
4. To instill a sense of social responsibility and empathy among students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design.

Distribution of Fruits and Food

- Upon arrival at the orphanage homes, volunteers distributed nutritious fruits and food to the children. The distribution was carried out in an organized and hygienic manner.
- Children were encouraged to share their favorite fruits and snacks, fostering a sense of community.

Provision of Sports Materials

- Sports equipment such as footballs, cricket sets, badminton sets, and other recreational items were handed over to the orphanage management.
- Volunteers demonstrated the use of the equipment and played games with the children, encouraging them to participate and enjoy.

Interactive Activities

- Arts and Crafts: Art supplies were provided, and children were guided through creative activities such as drawing, painting, and crafting.

- Storytelling and Reading Sessions: Volunteers read stories and conducted storytelling sessions to enhance the children's imagination and language skills.

Engagement and Interaction

- Volunteers spent quality time interacting with the children, building relationships, and understanding their needs and aspirations.
- Group activities and team-building games were conducted to foster a sense of camaraderie and teamwork among the children.

Conclusion

The annual social responsibility event organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design on November 14 was a resounding success. Through the dedicated efforts of students and faculty, we were able to bring joy, support, and valuable resources to the orphanage children in Beed. This initiative not only benefited the children but also instilled a strong sense of empathy and social responsibility in our students.

International Day of the Girl Child

Event Date: 11 October, 2022

Venue: Shivni Village, Beed

Event: Health Camp to promote Gender Equality

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Objective

The health camp was organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design to celebrate International Girl Child Day and promote gender equality. The primary objective was to provide free medical check-ups and health education sessions to the girls and women in Shivni Village. The camp aimed to improve the health and well-being of young girls, focusing on nutrition, menstrual hygiene, and general health awareness.

Inaugural Ceremony

- The event began at 9:00 AM with a welcome speech by the principal of the college, who highlighted the significance of International Girl Child Day and the importance of health and well-being for young girls.
- The chief guests, Dr. Amol Jawale, was introduced and honored for his contributions to the event.

Medical Check-ups

- Comprehensive medical check-ups were conducted for all attendees focusing on screenings for common health issues.
- Each girl received medical advice based on their individual health assessments.

Health Education Sessions

Several health education sessions were conducted throughout the day, focusing on key areas such as:

- Nutrition: The session covered the importance of a balanced diet, essential nutrients, and healthy eating habits. Practical tips on incorporating nutritious foods into daily meals were shared.
- Menstrual Hygiene: Girls were educated on the use of sanitary products and the importance of maintaining hygiene during menstruation.

Deogiri Pratishthan

Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed.

Sant Dnyaneshwar Nagar, Behind Government ITI Circus Ground, Beed – 431122

- General Well-being: Dr. Amol Jawale discussed overall well-being, including mental health, physical activity, and preventive health measures. The session emphasized the importance of regular health check-ups and self-care practices.

Interactive Q&A Sessions

Following each health education session, interactive Q&A sessions were held where girls could ask questions and seek advice from the medical professionals. This helped clarify doubts and provided personalized health guidance.

Distribution of Health Kits

Health kits containing sanitary pads, nutritional supplements, and informational brochures on health and hygiene were distributed to all participants. These kits aimed to support the girls and women in maintaining their health and hygiene post-camp.

Conclusion

Tulsi College of Fashion Design's health camp on International Girl Child Day effectively promoted gender equality and the importance of health and well-being for young girls. The event highlighted the need for accessible healthcare and health education for girls, ensuring they lead healthy and empowered lives. The college is committed to continuing its efforts in promoting gender equality and organizing similar events in the future.

Gandhi Jayanti Celebration – Swachh Bharat Abhiyan Activity

Date: 2 October 2022

Venue: Near by public garden, Beed

To celebrate Gandhi Jayanti, Tulsi College of Fashion Design organized a Public Gardens Cleaning and Maintenance Drive under the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan initiative. This activity aimed to promote environmental stewardship and community engagement by improving the cleanliness and maintenance of public gardens.

Public Gardens Cleaning and Maintenance Drive Details:

Garden Clean-up:

- Participants were divided into teams and assigned different sections of the public gardens.
- Activities included picking up litter, removing debris and clearing pathways to ensure the gardens were free from trash and obstacles.

Garden Maintenance:

- Teams also focused on maintenance activities such as trimming bushes, watering plants, and planting new saplings to enhance the garden's appearance.
- Special attention was given to cleaning and maintaining garden benches, fountains and other public amenities.

Sant Dnyaneshwar Nagar, Behind Government ITI Circus Ground, Beed – 431122

Participation and Impact:

- The event saw enthusiastic participation from over 200 students and 30 faculty members, alongside several community volunteers.
- The collective efforts resulted in the collection of approximately 600 kilograms of waste and the planting of 50 new saplings, significantly improving the cleanliness and aesthetic appeal of the public gardens.

Community Engagement:

- The drive also involved engaging with local residents and visitors to the gardens, raising awareness about the importance of maintaining clean and green public spaces. Informative pamphlets on waste management and gardening tips were distributed, encouraging community members to contribute to ongoing maintenance efforts.

Conclusion:

Overall, the Gandhi Jayanti Celebration and Swachh Bharat Abhiyan activity were highly successful, showcasing Tulsi College of Fashion Design's commitment to environmental responsibility and community service. The college plans to organize similar initiatives in the future to further the cause of cleanliness and sustainability.

Senior Citizen Day 2022 under Institute Social Responsibility Programme

Date: 21 August 2022

Theme: Craft and Hobby Workshop

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Venue: Shivni Village, Beed

Introduction

On 21 August 2022, Tulsi College of Fashion Design, in collaboration with institute social responsibility scheme, celebrated Senior Citizen Day with great enthusiasm and dedication at Shivni Village, Beed. The theme for this year's celebration was "Craft and Hobby Workshops", aimed at engaging senior citizens in various creative activities and providing them an opportunity to learn something new. The event was designed to offer workshop in painting, ensuring a relaxed and supportive environment with ample opportunities for socializing.

Event Day Activities

1. Opening Ceremony:

The event began with an opening ceremony where the Principal of Tulsi College of Fashion Design, welcomed the senior citizens and highlighted the significance of the day. The institute social responsibility unit coordinator, provided an overview of the day's activities and introduced the workshop instructors.

2. Craft and Hobby Workshop:

The highlight of the event was craft and hobby workshop. The workshop was designed to be hands-on, allowing the senior citizens to actively participate and create something of their own.

Painting Workshop: This workshop focused on watercolor painting. Participants were given blank canvases, brushes, and paints. The instructor demonstrated various techniques and encouraged participants to express their creativity through their artwork.

3. Refreshments and Socializing:

A dedicated area was set up with refreshments, including tea, coffee, snacks, and light meals. Comfortable seating arrangements were made to encourage socializing and

Report on Pollution Control Day

Event Name: Public Awareness March

Date: April 2, 2022

Organized By: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

To commemorate Pollution Control Day on April 2, 2022, Tulsi College of Fashion Design organized a Public Awareness March. This event was designed to educate the public about pollution issues, promote environmental conservation, and encourage sustainable practices within the community. The march aimed to visually communicate the importance of pollution control through engaging and informative activities.

Event

The Public Awareness March began at 9:00 AM from the designated starting point, with a lively and energetic atmosphere. The event featured a series of organized activities:

1. Opening Ceremony

- Welcome Address: The Principal of Tulsi College of Fashion Design, welcomed participants and emphasized the significance of Pollution Control Day.
- Briefing: Participants were given an overview of the march route and the key messages to be conveyed.

2. March and Awareness Campaign

- Marching: Participants, carrying banners and placards with messages such as "Reduce, Reuse, Recycle," "Protect Our Planet", and "Clean Air for All", marched through the designated route. The vibrant display of banners and slogans attracted attention and generated public interest.
- Educational Interactions: At strategic points along the route, volunteers engaged with passersby, sharing information about pollution and practical steps for environmental conservation. Informational pamphlets were distributed, highlighting simple actions individuals can take to reduce their environmental footprint.

3. Community Engagement

- Local Participation: Community members, including local businesses and schools, were encouraged to join the march, fostering a sense of collective responsibility.
- Interactive Booths: At the end of the march, booths were set up where participants could learn more about pollution control, view demonstrations on waste segregation, and engage in interactive activities related to sustainability.

Outcome:

The Public Awareness March was a resounding success, drawing significant attention from both participants and the general public. The event effectively communicated the importance of pollution control and inspired many to take action.

Conclusion

The Public Awareness March organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design on Pollution Control Day 2022 successfully highlighted the pressing issue of pollution and fostered a collective commitment to environmental conservation. The event not only raised awareness but also demonstrated the college's dedication to social responsibility and its role in promoting a cleaner, healthier environment for all.

Saint Gadge Baba Maharaj Jayanti Celebration

Date: 23 February 2022

Location: Near-by Garden, Beed

Activity: Cleanliness drives in garden to promote cleanliness and hygiene

On 23rd February 2022, Tulsi College of Fashion Design celebrated Saint Gadge Baba Maharaj Jayanti with a focus on Swachh Bharat Abhiyan (Clean India Mission). The event centered around organizing cleanliness drives in garden to promote cleanliness and hygiene.

Event Activity:

Cleanliness Drives in Near- by Garden:

- A dedicated team of volunteers, including students, faculty and staff, gathered in the near by garden area of Beed to participate in the cleanliness drives.
- The activities included cleaning garden.
- Educational sessions were conducted to inform shopkeepers and customers about proper waste management practices and the importance of maintaining a clean environment.
- Waste disposal systems were set up, including the installation of dustbins and organizing waste segregation processes.

Outcome:

- The event was a notable success, with enthusiastic participation from the college community and local residents. The markets and commercial areas were significantly cleaner by the end of the day, and the educational sessions helped raise awareness about sanitation and waste management.

Deogiri Pratishthan

BRIEF REPORT

Date: 14-12-2021

Location: Georai Tq. Dist. Beed, Maharashtra

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

Energy Conservation Day was observed by the female students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design with the aim of raising awareness and promoting energy-saving practices among the residents of Beed. The initiative focused on educating household women about simple yet effective methods to conserve energy, reduce electricity consumption, and lower electricity bills. This report outlines the activities conducted, methodologies employed, and the outcomes of the event.

Team Formation:

- Students were divided into small teams, each assigned to different localities within Beed. Each team had a designated leader responsible for coordinating activities in their area.

Household Visits:

- Teams conducted door-to-door visits, engaging with household women in a friendly and approachable manner. The objective was to educate them about energy conservation and demonstrate practical tips.
- The students explained the importance of energy conservation, both for reducing electricity bills and for environmental sustainability.

Interactive Sessions:

- Interactive sessions were held with the women, demonstrating the use of energy-efficient appliances and sharing simple habits to reduce electricity consumption.

- Practical examples included turning off lights when not in use, using natural light during the day, and unplugging devices when not in use.

Practical Demonstrations:

- Students demonstrated the difference in energy consumption between traditional bulbs and LED bulbs. They also explained how to read an electricity bill and identify areas where energy consumption could be reduced.

Conclusion

The Energy Conservation Day activities conducted by the students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design was a great success. Through their dedicated efforts, they managed to raise awareness, educate the community, and promote sustainable energy-saving practices. This initiative not only empowered women to take control of their energy consumption but also contributed to the broader goal of environmental conservation.

Event Title: "Joyful Giving: Spreading Smiles at Beed Orphanages"

Date: 14/11/2021

Location: Orphanage Home, Beed, Maharashtra

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

On November 14, 2021 Tulsi College of Fashion Design organized a social responsibility event to bring joy and support to orphanage children in Beed. This initiative is part of our commitment to giving back to the community and supporting those in need. The event includes the provision of fruits, food, and sports materials to the children, along with various interactive and engaging activities.

Objectives

- To promote physical fitness and recreational activities by supplying sports materials.
- To bring joy and a sense of belonging to the children through interactive and engaging activities.
- To instill a sense of social responsibility and empathy among students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design.

Distribution of Fruits and Food

- a) Upon arrival at the orphanage homes, volunteers distributed nutritious fruits and food to the children. The distribution was carried out in an organized and hygienic manner.
- b) Children were encouraged to share their favorite fruits and snacks, fostering a sense of community.

Provision of Sports Materials

- a) Sports equipment such as footballs, cricket sets, badminton sets, and other recreational items were handed over to the orphanage management.
- b) Volunteers demonstrated the use of the equipment and played games with the children, encouraging them to participate and enjoy.

Interactive Activities

- a) Sports and Games: Various outdoor games and sports activities were organized to engage the children and promote physical fitness.
- b) Storytelling and Reading Sessions: Volunteers read stories and conducted storytelling sessions to enhance the children's imagination and language skills.
- c) Music and Dance: Music and dance sessions were held to bring joy and encourage self-expression among the children.

Engagement and Interaction:

- Students spent quality time interacting with the children, building relationships, and understanding their needs and aspirations.
- Group activities and team-building games were conducted to foster a sense of camaraderie and teamwork among the children.

Conclusion

The annual social responsibility event organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design on November 14 was a resounding success. Through the dedicated efforts of students and faculty, we were able to bring joy, support, and valuable resources to the orphanage children in Beed. This initiative not only benefited the children but also instilled a strong sense of empathy and social responsibility in our students. We look forward to continuing and expanding this tradition in the coming years.

Gandhi Jayanti Celebration – Swachh Bharat Abhiyan Activity

Date: 2 October 2021

Venue: Tulsi College of Fashion Design main gate

To celebrate Gandhi Jayanti, Tulsi College of Fashion Design organized an awareness campaign under the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan (Clean India Mission) to educate the communities in Shivni Village, Beed, about sanitation and hygiene practices. This initiative aimed to promote better health and cleanliness standards within the community.

Awareness Campaign Details:

1. Informative Sessions:

- Participants conducted sessions in the village, explaining the importance of sanitation and hygiene.
- Topics covered included proper handwashing techniques, waste disposal methods, and the importance of clean water.

2. Demonstrations:

- Practical demonstrations were given on handwashing with soap, using clean water for drinking and cooking and proper waste segregation.
- Volunteers also demonstrated how to construct simple, hygienic toilet facilities.

3. Educational Material Distribution:

- Informative pamphlets and posters on sanitation and hygiene were distributed to villagers.
- Educational materials were designed to be easily understood and implemented by community members.

Brief Report

on Education Counseling Conducted by Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

In June and July 2021, Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design continued its mission of education outreach by conducting counseling sessions in junior colleges across several villages near Beed. The focus was to enlighten students about the potential career opportunities within the fashion industry.

Objective

- To educate students about the fashion design industry.
- To present the academic opportunities available at Tulsi College of Fashion Design.
- To support students in understanding the skill sets required for a successful career in fashion.

Activities Conducted

1. Industry Overview Sessions: Information sessions on the global and local fashion industry trends were provided to help students understand the market dynamics.
2. Interactive Fashion Workshops: Students participated in interactive workshops, including basic draping techniques and color theory, which allowed them to experience aspects of fashion design firsthand.
3. Panel Discussion with Experts: A panel of fashion experts discussed the current trends in the fashion industry and the importance of innovation and sustainability in fashion.

Villages Covered

- Ambajogai
- Shirur Kasar
- Ghatnandur
- Yelambghat
- Kurla

Conclusion

The 2024 education counseling initiative received an overwhelming response, with a significant number of students showing interest in pursuing fashion design. The hands-on workshops and expert panel discussions were particularly appreciated for providing practical insights into the fashion industry. The initiative successfully motivated students to consider fashion design as a rewarding career path.

These reports for each year illustrate the college's consistent efforts to engage with the local community and guide students towards a creative and fulfilling career in fashion design. Each year's activities are tailored to suit the evolving interests and needs of students.

Introduction

Energy Conservation Day was observed by the students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design with the aim of raising awareness and promoting energy-saving practices among the residents of Beed. The initiative focused on educating household women about simple yet effective methods to conserve energy, reduce electricity consumption, and lower electricity bills. This report outlines the activities conducted, methodologies employed, and the outcomes of the event.

Team Formation:

- Students were divided into small teams, each assigned to different localities within Beed. Each team had a designated leader responsible for coordinating activities in their area.

Household Visits:

- Teams conducted door-to-door visits, engaging with household women in a friendly and approachable manner. The objective was to educate them about energy conservation and demonstrate practical tips.
- The students explained the importance of energy conservation, both for reducing electricity bills and for environmental sustainability.

Interactive Sessions:

- Interactive sessions were held with the women, demonstrating the use of energy-efficient appliances and sharing simple habits to reduce electricity consumption.

- Practical examples included turning off lights when not in use, using natural light during the day, and unplugging devices when not in use.

Practical Demonstrations:

- Students demonstrated the difference in energy consumption between traditional bulbs and LED bulbs. They also explained how to read an electricity bill and identify areas where energy consumption could be reduced.

Conclusion

The Energy Conservation Day activities conducted by the students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design were a resounding success. Through their dedicated efforts, they managed to raise awareness, educate the community, and promote sustainable energy-saving practices. This initiative not only empowered women to take control of their energy consumption but also contributed to the broader goal of environmental conservation.

REPORT

Event Title: "Joyful Giving: Spreading Smiles at Beed Orphanages"

Date: November 14, 2019

Location: Orphanage, Beed, Maharashtra

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Introduction

Every year on November 14, Tulsi College of Fashion Design organizes a social responsibility event to bring joy and support to orphanage children in Beed. This initiative is part of our commitment to giving back to the community and supporting those in need. The event includes the provision of fruits, food, and sports materials to the children, along with various interactive and engaging activities.

Objectives

- To support the nutritional needs of orphanage children by providing healthy food and fruits.
- To promote physical fitness and recreational activities by supplying sports materials.
- To bring joy and a sense of belonging to the children through interactive and engaging activities.
- To instill a sense of social responsibility and empathy among students of Tulsi College of Fashion Design.

Distribution of Fruits and Food:

- a) Upon arrival at the orphanage homes, volunteers distributed nutritious fruits and food to the children. The distribution was carried out in an organized and hygienic manner.
- b) Children were encouraged to share their favorite fruits and snacks, fostering a sense of community.

Provision of Sports Materials:

- Sports equipment such as footballs, cricket sets, badminton sets, and other recreational items were handed over to the orphanage management.
- Volunteers demonstrated the use of the equipment and played games with the children, encouraging them to participate and enjoy.

Interactive Activities:

- Sports and Games: Various outdoor games and sports activities were organized to engage the children and promote physical fitness.

- Arts and Crafts: Art supplies were provided, and children were guided through creative activities such as drawing, painting, and crafting.
- Storytelling and Reading Sessions: Volunteers read stories and conducted storytelling sessions to enhance the children's imagination and language skills.

Engagement and Interaction:

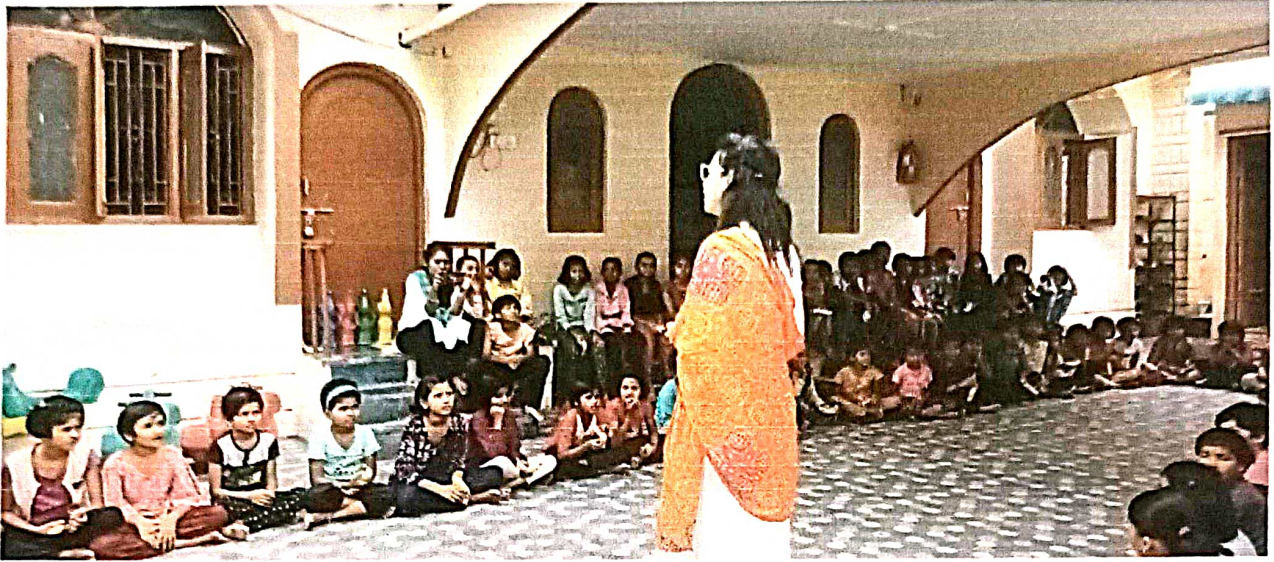

- Volunteers spent quality time interacting with the children, building relationships, and understanding their needs and aspirations.
- Group activities and team-building games were conducted to foster a sense of camaraderie and teamwork among the children.

Conclusion

The annual social responsibility event organized by Tulsi College of Fashion Design on November 14 was a resounding success. Through the dedicated efforts of students and faculty, we were able to bring joy, support, and valuable resources to the orphanage children in Beed. This initiative not only benefited the children but also instilled a strong sense of empathy and social responsibility in our students. We look forward to continuing and expanding this tradition in the coming years.

Brief Report on “Child Marriage Free India”

Summary of Activities:

- The campaign was launched at various schools in the nearby villages of Beed.
- Awareness sessions were conducted, focusing on the harmful effects of child marriage, including health risks, the impact on education, and the overall well-being of young girls.
- Informational pamphlets and posters were distributed to students, teachers, and parents, emphasizing the importance of educating girls and preventing early marriages.
- Interactive sessions were held, where students and parents could ask questions and express their concerns. Real-life stories of girls who were saved from early marriage and their success in education were shared to inspire others.
- A pledge was taken by students, teachers, and parents to support the cause and work towards making Beed a child marriage-free district.

Outcome:

- The campaign was well-received, with significant participation from local schools, students, and parents.
- Increased awareness among the community about the importance of stopping child marriage and promoting education for girls.
- Positive feedback from participants and a commitment from local authorities to continue supporting such initiatives.

Report on International Suicide Prevention Day 2019

Event: Walk for Mental Health Awareness

Date: 10 September 2019

Venue: Tulsi College of Fashion Design Campus and Nearby Park

Introduction:

Tulsi College of Fashion Design organized a series of activities on International Suicide Prevention Day, 10th September 2019, to promote mental health awareness and support within the community. The first activity of the day was a "Walk for Mental Health Awareness", aimed at raising awareness about mental health issues and suicide prevention, while encouraging physical activity and community engagement.

Objective:

The primary objective of the walkathon was to spread awareness about mental health and suicide prevention, reduce stigma, and foster a supportive environment for individuals struggling with mental health issues. The event aimed to bring together students, faculty, and community members to show solidarity and promote a message of hope and support.

Participants:

The event saw enthusiastic participation from over 300 individuals, including students, faculty members, staff, and local community members.

Event Details:

1. Assembly and Welcome:

- The participants gathered at the main entrance of Tulsi College of Fashion Design at 7:00 AM.
- The event began with a brief welcome address by the Principal, who highlighted the importance of mental health awareness and the significance of Suicide Prevention Day.

3. Walkathon Route:

- The walkathon commenced at 7:30 AM, starting from the college campus and proceeding through the nearby park, covering a total distance of approximately 3 kilometers.
- The route was chosen to ensure maximum visibility and engagement with the local community, passing through busy areas where onlookers could see and be influenced by the messages.

4. Engagement Activities:

- Along the route, participants distributed pamphlets and flyers containing information about mental health resources, helplines, and tips for managing stress and anxiety.
- Volunteers engaged with passersby, encouraging them to join the walk or take a pamphlet, fostering a sense of community involvement.

5. Conclusion and Refreshments:

- The walkathon concluded back at the college campus around 9:00 AM.
- Participants were provided with refreshments, and a short closing ceremony was held where faculty members shared personal stories and messages of hope and support.
- Certificates of participation were awarded to all attendees as a token of appreciation for their involvement in the cause.

Impact:

The “Walk for Mental Health Awareness” was a resounding success, achieving its goal of raising awareness and promoting a supportive community environment. The visible display of solidarity and the dissemination of information helped to reduce the stigma surrounding mental health issues and encouraged open conversations about mental well-being.

Conclusion:

The event marked a significant step towards fostering a more understanding and supportive environment at Tulsi College of Fashion Design. By bringing together students, faculty, and the local community, the walkathon effectively highlighted the critical importance of mental health awareness and suicide prevention.

Report on Senior Citizen Day 2019 under Institute Social Responsibility Programme

Date: 21 August 2019

Theme: Music and Laughter Show

Organized by: Tulsi College of Fashion Design

Venue: Shivni Village, Beed

Introduction

On 21 August 2019, Tulsi College of Fashion Design, celebrated Senior Citizen Day at Shivni Village, Beed. This year's theme was "Music and Laughter Show", aiming to bring joy and nostalgia to the senior citizens through live performances of their favorite oldies and comedy acts. The event was designed to create a festive atmosphere, evoking memories of their younger years while providing a space for relaxation and enjoyment.

Event Day Activities

1. Opening Ceremony:

The event began with an opening ceremony where the Principal of Tulsi College of Fashion Design, welcomed the senior citizens and emphasized the importance of celebrating their contributions to society. The social responsibility coordinator, provided an overview of the day's activities and introduced the performers.

2. Music and Laughter Show:

The main attraction of the day was the Music and Laughter Show, which was divided into several segments to keep the audience engaged and entertained.

- Live Music Performances: Local bands and musicians took the stage to perform a selection of classic oldies. The playlist included popular songs from various decades, ensuring there was something for everyone. The music brought back fond memories, and many senior citizens were seen singing along and tapping their feet to the rhythm.
- Comedy Acts: In between the musical performances, comedians entertained the audience with light-hearted jokes and humorous anecdotes. The comedy acts added a lively atmosphere to the event, bringing smiles and laughter to the faces of the attendees.
- Sing-Along Session: A special sing-along session was organized, where the senior citizens were encouraged to join in and sing their favorite songs. Songbooks with lyrics were provided, and the participants enthusiastically took part, creating a sense of community and shared joy.

3. Refreshments and Socializing:

A dedicated area was set up with refreshments, including tea, coffee, snacks, and light meals. Comfortable seating arrangements were made to encourage socializing and conversation. This provided a relaxed environment for the senior citizens to interact with each other and the younger participants.

Conclusion

The Senior Citizen Day celebration at Tulsi College of Fashion Design was a resounding success. The theme of "Music and Laughter Show" brought joy, laughter, and nostalgia to the senior citizens, creating a memorable and heartwarming event. The institute social responsibility unit's dedication and hard work ensured the event's success, leaving a lasting impact on all who attended. This celebration not only highlighted the importance of appreciating and honoring our senior citizens but also provided a platform for them to enjoy and relive the memories of their younger years in a supportive and festive environment.

Brief Report on Education Counseling Conducted by Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design 2019

Introduction

Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design, Beed, conducted education counseling sessions in various junior colleges in nearby villages of Beed during the months of June and July. The primary objective was to provide guidance and information about career opportunities in the field of fashion design and to encourage students to consider fashion design as a viable career option.

Objective

The main objectives of the counseling sessions were:

1. To create awareness about the field of fashion design and its various career prospects.
2. To provide detailed information about the courses offered by Tulsi College of Fashion Design.
3. To guide students on the admission process and eligibility criteria.
4. To answer any queries students might have regarding a career in fashion design.

Activities Conducted

1. Counseling Sessions: Experienced faculty members from Tulsi College of Fashion Design conducted interactive counseling sessions at the junior colleges. These sessions covered various aspects of fashion design, including the scope of the industry, skills required, and future career opportunities.

Date:

2. Distribution of Informative Brochures: Brochures detailing the courses offered, faculty profiles, infrastructure facilities, and success stories of alumni were distributed among students to provide them with comprehensive information about the college.

3. One-on-One Interaction: Students were given the opportunity to have one-on-one interactions with the counselors to discuss their specific interests and career goals. Personalized guidance was provided to help them make informed decisions.

4. Presentations and Demonstrations: Visual presentations and demonstrations were conducted to give students a glimpse into the world of fashion design, including design processes, garment construction, and the use of technology in fashion.

Villages Covered

The counseling sessions were conducted in various villages around Beed, including but not limited to:

- Majalgaon
- Parali
- Kedarsangvi
- Devkheda

Conclusion

The education counseling sessions conducted by Deogiri Pratishthan Tulsi College of Fashion Design were well-received by the students and faculty of the junior colleges. The sessions succeeded in creating interest among students about pursuing a career in fashion design and provided them with the necessary information to take the next steps. The college plans to continue these initiatives in the coming years to reach out to more students and inspire them to explore the dynamic field of fashion design.
